

Review Hill Climb Racing

Fingersoft

Hill Climb Racing is one of the biggest mobile phone game hits. Become a daring pilot and perform the most impressive stunts without being afraid of anything. You can build the car you like the most. It is free to download and works great on all devices

In the universe of mobile applications and games, competition is very tough. Large companies and small developers constantly present new proposals. Everyone seeks to be a success, to become the most downloaded, to develop a title that everyone will remember for years. Today we are going to tell you about a product that achieved it 8 years ago and today it is still one of the best games to download for free on Android and iOS.

The app that we are going to tell you about today is Hill Climb Racing. The game developed by Fingersoft in 2012 almost ten years later continues to occupy the top positions as one of the most chosen by fans of racing or car games. To date, the Google virtual store registers more than 500 billion downloads and has a score of 4 and a half stars based on the opinion of almost ten million people.

Those responsible for the success are the Fingersoft company. The firm was born in 2012 from a young man who was dedicated to creating filters for smartphone cameras. After the success of Hill Climb Racing, the company began to bill millions and grew to such a point that today it has more than 70 employees and two offices.

Playing Hill Climb Racing is very easy and therein lies one of its great strengths. The proposal is to drive a vehicle for as long as possible through a terrain that presents us with different ups and downs. We must mainly control our gasoline so as not to run out of it. If we lose all the fuel, the game is over.

Driving our vehicle will not present complications since we only have two controls on the panel, one that helps us to brake and another that serves to regulate the gas. As we move forward we will collect coins of different value that will allow us to make purchases of improvements, repairs to the vehicle or different aspects of cars.

The story of Hill Climb Racing revolves around the driver of our vehicle, Newton Bill, who will do whatever it takes to reach his destination in search of becoming a professional driver.

If you are a person with experience in these proposals and you have good skills, you can perform tricks that will give you bonus points and extra coins.

One of the advantages of Hill Climb Racing is that you do not need data or internet to play. If you don't have WiFi or data plan, you can enjoy the funniest races regardless of the state of your connection.

You have at your disposal a large number of vehicles to choose from. You can make 29 different models each with different characteristics. So pay attention to your style of play and choose correctly how you will compete.

Once you advance in the races you will have the opportunity to improve your vehicle. The elements that can be changed are: the tires, the traction, the suspension and the engine. In addition, with the Garage mode you can customize your vehicle as you wish.

It doesn't matter what type of mobile you use to enjoy the Fingersoft product. The app works perfectly on all types of terminals. No matter what its performance is, it is very easy to run.

The variety of vehicles with which you can participate is very wide. If you are a fan of large transport, you have trucks or tractors. If you prefer something smaller and more stylish, you can use the hippie truck or the police car. If, on the other hand, you want to try things out of the ordinary, you can go for the wheel, the fire truck or the snowmobile.

Downloading Hill Climb Racing for free is one of the best alternatives that you can choose if you like mobile phone games. It is a simple, entertaining and fun proposal. The audiovisual section does not stand out but the finishes within its simplicity also work perfectly. You won't be able to stop playing once you start. You will always look for how to improve yourself and the points that your friends score.

Get the car that you like the most, perform impressive tricks, do not fear the laws of physics in this outstanding installment that has almost ten years of consecutive successes.
